AZERBAIJAN

Please continue your prayers for sister Roxana, the doctor who came from Iran to Turkey to be baptized, and soon after returning to Iran faced persecution and had to flee at a moment's notice to neighbouring Azerbaijan. Here are some of the emails received over the last 2 weeks:

Sorry, my english is no very good I using translator. After my baptize and return to Iran I told my best friend about my new religion and way of life. And my ex boyfriend is also friends to her. Sadly she told him a bit what I did. And since I never answer his sms or phones and he still mad at me , he hated me so much that he said to my friend he goes to police so he can see me die . The other day I was teaching my student in university and my friend called me and say that ex know and want to call police. Then I was so afraid for my life to decide leave in rush. Now my mom say police go to her home 2 time ask where is your daughter. My ex so jealous he doesn't want to me be with another man and destroying my life.I feel so sad.

i am very scared. i dont know what do. i dont know this city and im alone i feel confuseed. i do not know what do at this time.i hope things get better so i can go back to iran .i trying to get information frome my mom and ask her send me my money frome my bank. i feel very scared and sad.

I know that the government of Iran have my house and car locked and chained. My mom and dad have a question and answer with Police about me. And that she could not get access to the bank because Hsabham had been blocked

[In response to our enquiry as to whether we could send money:]

I asked my fiance and he send me money . I have enough for one month so I do not want to bug you with money. I hate this feel. Every body thinks I am liar . This is hard for me . I try to keep dignity to myself. Before i only heard these things on the news and now- happening to me. I am too scared.

Thanks for prayers because I need it. I will go to UNHCR tomorrow [United Nations High Commission for Refugees]. I feel terrible these days. I am very very scare and condused.

Today I went to the address UNHCR and they ask me to go some other place. Sadly I didn't find it and I lost myself in city. I will go again tomorrow.

Again thanks for the pray. I feel really weak this days. i can not believe how fast things changes for my life. I was think maybe I go back to Tehran but my mom says don't because police is lookin for u.

I went to UNHCR, they say first I have to talk to Azerbaijan government if they don't agree u stay in Baku then we can do something. Then a police man came see me my place, he is very rude , because he is Muslim and he hates christians and ask me why i did that and ask me go back to iran, then he make me cried i;½ and felt bad and stop yelling to me.

Please can you send UNHCR a letter ask them help me please.

So please do continue praying for our sister. We will provide funds when she needs or is willing to receive them.
